

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start!
- Let's Explore!
- Let's Practice!
- Extension Activity
- Target Words
- Learning Points

Let's Start!

Hiking ... Fishing ... So many choices!

Learning Outcome:

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you prefer restful or active activities on holidays? Why?
- Do you prefer fishing or surfing? Why?
- How do you feel about hiking or scuba diving?

Can Do Statements:

- I can talk about things to do or take on a trip.
- I can make suggestions and requests.
- I can ask for targeted clarification.

Let's Explore!

John talks about Baja California. Does he like the *area?

An “area” is also called a region.

Instructions: Read the dialogue aloud.

John: How do you like Mexico?

Tourist: We love it.

John: I find Baja California is one of the most interesting areas in the world.

Tourist: What exactly do you mean by that?

John: Well, there's so much variety. It has everything, from deserts to mountains to forests to beaches.

Tourist: Yes, you're right about that.

John: I went diving yesterday and I saw whales and all kinds of tropical fish.

Tourist: Could you give us some suggestions for tomorrow?

John: Well, the choices are almost endless.

Tourist: Can you explain what you mean?

John: You could go fishing, hiking or surfing. You could photograph the desert, the fish and the plants. You might go whale watching or go horseback riding. You should definitely take a boat trip.

Tourist: Amazing! Thank you!

Let's Practice!

Tourists ask for suggestions about what to do in Baja California. John makes suggestions.

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the suggestion on the left to the second part on the right.

- | | |
|---------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1) Could you give us | take a boat trip. |
| 2) You could go horseback | watching or go horseback riding. |
| 3) You could photograph | the desert, the fish and the plants. |
| 4) You might go whale | riding. |
| 5) You should definitely | some suggestions for tomorrow? |

Let's Practice!

John thinks Baja California is one of the most* interesting areas in the world. Do you agree?

Instructions: Read the dialogue. Use the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word bank

one of the	exactly	by that	endless
suggestions variety	Can you explain	hiking

John: I find that Baja California is _____ most interesting areas in the world.

Tourist: What _____ do you mean _____ ?

John: Well, there's so much _____ .

Tourist: Could you give us some _____ for tomorrow?

John: Well, the choices are almost _____ .

Tourist: _____ what you mean?

John: You could go fishing, _____ or surfing.

*After the expression "one of the most...", you use an adjective (like interesting) and a plural noun (like areas).

Extension Activity

Write an advertisement for a company that takes passengers on whale watching excursions.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online to find out where you can go whale watching.
- Find out what kind of whales you can see.
- Find out the best time of the year to go.
- Choose an original name for your company.
- Write a newspaper advertisement for the company. Describe the experience of whale watching.
- Make suggestions.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I summarize basic information about whale watching in English.

☐☐

I write a newspaper advertisement on whale watching.

☐☐

I make suggestions to a tourist for their whale watching trip.

☐☐

Target Words

- whale watching (noun): activity where you go on a boat to see whales in the ocean
e.g. We might go whale watching, or just enjoy the beaches.
- horseback riding (noun): activity where you ride on a horse
e.g. You could go horseback riding this afternoon.
- everything (pronoun): all things
e.g. Baja California has everything, from deserts to mountains to forests to beaches.
- area (noun): place; region
e.g. Baja California is one of the most interesting areas in the world.
- to photograph (verb): to take pictures (photographs)
e.g. You could photograph the desert, the fish and the plants.
- fish (noun): animals that live in water, with gills and fins
e.g. It is fun to see many tropical fish.
- endless (adjective): with no limit or end
e.g. The possibilities are endless!

Learning Points

Asking for Targeted Information

If you don't understand what a person says, you can ask them to repeat or to clarify what they mean.

You can also put an idea in different words to make sure you understand.

This is called rephrasing.

Here are some expressions to ask for repetition, clarification or to rephrase an idea.

Asking for Repetition	Asking for Clarification	Rephrasing
Could you say that again, please?	What exactly do you mean by that?	Do you mean...?
Could you repeat that, please?	Can you explain what you mean?	Did you say...?
	Could you clarify that, please?

Notice that you use modals (could, would) and Wh-questions (what, where, who, when etc.) to ask for repetition and clarification.

